Meet colleagues across the university, share your ideas and priorities, find support, and get involved!

AAUP-Penn is a membership organization that welcomes everyone employed in teaching and/or research at Penn, regardless of rank or title.

Your chapter of the American Association of University Professors is one of the largest and most active AAUP advocacy chapters in the country, working together to defend academic freedom, advocating for democratized institutional governance, and building solidarity across job categories to stand up for better working conditions and the rights of all members of our community.

YOUR INVOLVEMENT IS NEEDED MORE THAN EVER!
